Resolved: delay in processing of REMIT and Transparency data on the BMRS

What has happened?

We experienced a delay in processing the REMIT and Transparency data on the Balancing Reporting Mechanism Service (BMRS) between 08:00 and 09:10 (GMT) today, 23 March 2016.

How was I affected?

The REMIT and Transparency pages on the BMRS (which were not updated during this period) are now up-to-date and Parties retrieving data via the API or Data Push should now receive a full data set.

Do I need to take any further action?

No, however if you do have any questions please contact bscservicedesk@cgi.com.
