Resolved: delay in processing of the REMIT and Transparency data on BMRS

What has happened?

We experienced a delay of approximately 30 minutes in processing of the REMIT and Transparency data on the Balancing Mechanism Reporting Service (BMRS) between 10:00 and 11:15 (BST) today. This delay was caused by an unusually large volume of submissions.

How will I be affected?

The REMIT and Transparency pages on the BMRS website are now up to date and Parties using the API or Data Push solutions will now receive a full data set. However, the timestamp on any 'Acknowledgements' received between 10:00 and 11:15 (BST) will reflect this delay.

Please note that any REMIT data submitted via the ELEXON Portal is unaffected by this issue.

Do I need to take any further action?

No, however if you do have any questions then please contact bscservicedesk@cgi.com.
