Issue with ELEXON email and website: resolved

Please be advised that we have been experiencing a technical issue with our inbound emails since this morning. This is due to an error in DNS (Domain Name Service) and mail exchanger records, which has also impacted the accessibility to the ELEXON website (www.elexon.co.uk).

The issue has now been fixed. Please note emails have been queued up and it might take some time for all emails to be delivered.

If you need further information regarding this matter, please contact Amitabha Sikder, our IT and Information Security Manager on 020 7380 4183.
